第一部份：單一選擇題（70%）

I. 字彙與語法（14%）

1. The doctor is so _______ to his patients that he has little time with his family.
   A. admired B. devoted C. measured D. privileged

2. _________, the road became dark.
   A. With the day passing into evening B. When passing into evening
   C. The day passing into evening D. Passing into

3. Mrs. Chen plays the piano very well, so ______ her daughter.
   A. is B. do C. does D. too

4. Many travelers like to collect restaurant menus for _______.
   A. landscape B. brochures C. heritage D. souvenirs

5. We all know the fact _______ most deaths from lung cancer are caused by smoking.
   A. when B. that C. how D. where

6. Children dressed in Halloween _______ go door to door to ask for candies.
   A. jewelry B. victory C. costumes D. views

7. Kevin speaks excellent English. He is good ______ it.
   A. in B. about C. at D. with

8. After the party, I had to clean up the ______ by myself.
   A. messy B. messing C. mess D. messed

9. Mother _______ at me because of my poor grades.
   A. invention B. frowned C. stole D. meaning

10. Mr. Lee ______ his son a new computer for his birthday.
    A. promise B. promising C. to promise D. promised

11. A chicken sandwich is _______ than a hamburger.
    A. cheap B. cheapest C. cheaper D. much cheap

12. Don’t let your child _______ in the street.
    A. to play B. play C. playing D. has played

13. Sam came _______ his friend when he was in Hong Kong.
    A. like B. from C. across D. off

14. Maggi wasn’t paying _______ to the movies, so she didn’t understand what it was about.
    A. result B. attention C. description D. action

II. 綜合測驗（20%）以下短文有10個空格，每個空格有四個選項A, B, C, D，選最適當的選項A, B, C, 或D，標示在答案卡上。

Have you ever wondered 15. ______ you always buy items that you don’t really need when buying at a supermarket? If you have, then you are 16. ______ millions of other shoppers. In fact, supermarket owners hire marketing specialists to design ways of getting shoppers to buy more products. Usually, the basic items that everybody needs are spread all over the store. For example, you might get your bread in 17. ______ three, but walk to aisle eight to find milk. On the way, you will have to pass by other products such as boxes of chocolates, potato chips, and soft drinks. In this way, you will end up 18. ______ more products than you need and spend extra dollars. Besides, several things are done to 19. ______ you to stay longer and look around. For example, soft music is 20. _______ to help you relax and the temperature is carefully controlled to keep you warm in winter and 21. _______ in summer. Also most popular products are placed at eye level so that you cannot avoid 22. _______ them. You spend more money 23. _______ them. So next time you finish a long shopping trip from the supermarket’s 24. _______ to the exit, think of the question who really decides what you buy.

15. A. who  B. where  C. why  D. when
16. A. to like  B. liking  C. like  D. liked
17. A. street  B. aisle  C. advertising  D. direction
18. A. buying  B. selling  C. fortunate  D. invent
19. A. encourage  B. equal  C. played  D. gone
20. A. put  B. made  C. cheerful  D. cool
21. A. freezing  B. sizzling  C. seen  D. seeing
22. A. see  B. to see  C. into  D. to
23. A. in  B. on  C. on
24. A. entrance  B. shelf  C. cart  D. scanner

III. 項話 (12%) 選出最適當的回應句。

25. Eric, I want to send an e-mail to my sister. Can I use your computer?
   A. It was the birthday gift from my parents.  B. It took engineers years to research.
   C. I'm sorry. I need it to write my homework.  D. Sure. Your sister must enjoy her work very much.

26. My mother wants to invite you over for dinner.
   A. Cooking is my mother's favorite hobby.
   B. Vegetables are good for my health.
   C. I have ordered pizza and fried chicken for tonight's party.
   D. It's my pleasure. I believe your mother must be a good cook.

27. How many brothers and sister do you have?
   A. I'm the only child.
   B. My brother studies at college.
   C. Sally has only two brothers.
   D. Sally is the youngest daughter in the family.

28. You look nervous. What's the matter with you?
   A. Relax. You'll be fine with it.
   B. The important exam is coming next week.
   C. Rest helps me concentrate.
   D. The teacher is always on time.

29. What information do you read online?
   A. The telephone line is busy.
   B. Computer makes our life convenient.
   C. I read holiday and travel on the net.
   D. My friend called me about homework.

30. What club did you join at high school?
   A. I am interested in acting.
   B. Jolin is my favorite pop singer.
   C. My parents ask me not to stay outside too late.
   D. I am the member of the guitar club.

IV. 閱讀測試 (24%) 以下有四段短文, 根據內容，選出最適當的答案，共 12 题。

Questions 31-32
People who live in modern houses have many important services that they do not even think about. They know, for example, that the light will come on when they press an electric switch, and that they can get water by turning a tap. Without these services, life would not be comfortable. Few people realize what makes these services possible.
31. What is the main idea of this passage?
   A. When we press an electric switch, the light is on.
   B. We seldom pay attention to how modern services work to make our life comfortable.
   C. We enjoy our modern life very much.
   D. Electricity and water are our basic needs.

32. Which of the following statements is not true?
   A. Electricity is one of the modern services to make our life comfortable.
   B. Tap water makes us get water easily and quickly.
   C. Many people realize how important modern technology is to us.
   D. Without modern technology, our life is hard and inconvenient.

Questions 33-35
Caffeine increases your heart beat and your blood pressure. Doctors today often suggest that people, especially those with heart problems avoid caffeine as much as possible. Unfortunately, several popular drinks contain caffeine, although some are worse than others. Strong coffee contains the most – nearly 200 milligrams in each cup. Drinking weak coffee is better. It contains less than half the amount of caffeine. In fact, weak coffee and strong tea contain an equal amount of caffeine per cup – 80 milligrams. Weak tea and cola drinks come next. If you need an energy boost but are afraid of caffeine, the best thing to drink is cocoa, which has only 10 to 17 milligrams of caffeine per cup.

33. Which of the following statements is the main idea of this passage?
   A. Drinking beverages containing too much caffeine is not good for health.
   B. Many people are avoiding drinking popular drinks.
   C. Weak coffee and strong tea contain equal amount of caffeine.
   D. Tea is good for our health, but coffee is not.

34. Which drink contains the most caffeine in each cup?
   A. strong tea
   B. strong coffee
   C. soft drink
   D. chocolate

35. Which drink increases your energy but with less caffeine?
   A. cola drinks
   B. milk
   C. cocoa
   D. green tea

Questions 36-38
Chat rooms are popular among young people. There are many chat rooms available to net users. These rooms are organized around some general topics reflecting the interests of the participants. When people chat in these rooms, they won't find anyone behind their computer screens. The members of a particular room are usually scattered around the world. Time and distance are no obstacles to connecting. Because of this convenience, many people who want to get away from their real world go into cyberspace friendship. They meet friends on the internet. Some develop the friendships that they have longed for but some are cheated because of this.

36. What is the purpose of chat rooms as indicated by the author?
   A. Users can order products from the internet.
   B. Chat room is a new technology.
   C. They are available to the old and young.
   D. Young people used them to develop friendships.

37. Why are the chat rooms convenient?
   A. Young people want to escape from the real world of loneliness.
   B. People can go online anytime and anyplace they want.
   C. It is not expensive.
   D. They don’t want to be cheated.

38. Why are the chat rooms so popular among young people according to the author?
   A. The topics reflect interests of young people.
   B. It is a fashion.
   C. Their parents encourage them to participate.
   D. It is not difficult to communicate with people in the world.
Questions 39-42
No other philosopher in Asia has been more influential than Confucius. For over two thousand years, his concepts of government and his ideas about personal conduct and morality have permeated into Chinese life and culture. Many of his principles remain important to this day. Little is known about his childhood background to predict the remarkable prestige that Confucius eventually achieved. He grew up in poverty, and had no formal education. Through diligent study, he educated himself and became a scholar. For a while, he held several government posts, but he soon resigned and spent most of his life as a teacher. Eventually, his disciples compiled his most important teachings into a book known the Analects.

39. What does “conduct” mean?
   A. business    B. behavior    C. science    D. philosophy
40. What does “posts” mean?
   A. letters     B. positions    C. advertisements  D. messages
41. What does “resign” mean?
   A. employ      B. become famous  C. quit        D. promote
42. Who were his “disciples”?
   A. relatives   B. scholars     C. government officials D. students

第二部分：非選擇題 (30%) 請將答案寫在非選擇題彌封答案卷上，並要標明題號。

I. 簡答題 (10%) 閱讀下面文章，回答下列五個問題；答案請務必簡明扼要。

Everyone knows that sharks are dangerous, but many people may not realize that sharks are interesting. Sharks share some things in common with other fish, but they are somewhat different. First of all, almost all sharks are carnivores, or meat eaters. They eat dolphins, seals, other sharks and other fish. Like all fish, sharks are cold-blooded animals— their bodies change temperature as the water temperature changes. Like other fish, the shark’s body has openings that help the shark breathe in the water. However, a shark’s skeleton is unusual for a fish. Its bones are tough and flexible. In fact, shark bones feel like a human ear. In addition, a shark’s skin is unusual for a fish. Its skin is like armor. It has many sharp nails to protect it. Consequently, you can hurt yourself by just touching a shark’s skin. Several things have helped sharks survive. For example, sharks are great hunters. They can hear, smell, and feel everything in the water from long distances. Sharks use their teeth to kill, not to chew. They swallow their food whole or in big pieces.

1. Why are sharks interesting?
2. What differences are sharks from other fish?
3. What similarities are sharks with other fish?
4. How can sharks survive well under water?
5. What is something special about cold-blooded animals?

II. 英文作文 (20%)

請以 “Advantages and Disadvantages of Being Famous” (成爲名人的優點及缺點) 為題寫一 篇約 120 字的英文作文。 （評分標準：內容 5 分，組織 5 分，文法 4 分，用字遣詞 4 分，拼字，大小寫及標點符號 2 分）

※背面尚有試題※