第一篇 St. Johns 五題

St. John's is the capital city of the province of Newfoundland and Labrador. Situated at the most easterly point of Canada, the city is the oldest settled community in North America, founded in the mid 1500's. The downtown streets wind their way around the harbor; the houses and stores look more like buildings from Europe than from North America, reflecting the city's history. In the last fifty years, the population has grown to 170,000. While this is a small population in Asian terms, the space the city takes up is now as large as many Asian cities. This is because there are few apartments and the single family homes are spread out far from the downtown core. However, it is still only a ten minute drive to the Atlantic Ocean from most parts of the city. St. John's has little pollution and a low crime rate. It has never had tornadoes or earthquakes and, only twice in its history, has it had a hurricane. People here say that the weather will not kill, but it can make you crazy. This is because the weather changes so quickly that sometimes you can have four seasons in one day. Many tourists in the summer can be hard to get a hotel room. They enjoy breathing the clean air, walking around the city, seeing the beautiful scenery, and experiencing the friendliness that the people of the city are famous for.

第二篇 Divorce in England 五題

Father leaves for work in the morning after breakfast. The two children take the bus to school, and mother stays at home cooking and cleaning until father and the kids return home in the evening. This is the traditional picture of a happy family living in Britain. But it is not true anymore today. The biggest change has been caused by divorce. As many as 2 out of 3 marriages now end in divorce, leading to a situation where many children live with one parent and only see the other at weekends or holidays. And the large rise in divorces has meant many women need to work to support themselves and their children. This has caused an increase in childcare facilities, though they are very expensive and can be difficult to find in many areas. However, these changes have not had a totally negative effect. For women, it is now much easier to have a career and good salary. Although it is difficult to be a working mother, it has become normal and it's no longer seen as a bad thing for the children. As for children themselves, some argue that modern children grow up to be more independent and mature than in the past. So while the traditional model of a family may no longer be true in modern Britain, the modern family continues to raise happy, successful children.
